Since this isn't my expertise, mind checking this to make sure it is correct:

Cobb County government plans to sell $397 million in taxpayer-backed bonds for the stadium. Of that money, $368 million will go toward construction of the stadium, which is forecast to cost $672 million. The rest of the money is to cover financing costs and about a year's worth of interest payments on the debt.

Bosses asked about the data on the jobs. They're wondering if y'all had it to say if there's somebody I can go to get it myself since it's been a while. Let me know. I'm glad to do anything as I said from the outset. Contracts is now slated to run Tuesday.

Have a great weekend.
